

A KING'S TRADE

"The powder-packed thirteenth installment in a classic naval adventure series." Captain Alan Lewrie, Royal Navy, is just discovering the truth of the old adage that "No Good Deed Goes Unpunished!" After a bout of Yellow Fever decimated the crew of Lewrie's HMS "Proteus" in 1797, it had "seemed" like a knacky idea to abscond with a dozen slaves from a coastal Jamaican plantation to help man his frigate, a grand jape on their purse-proud master and a "righteous" act, to boot. But now

Reader's Opinions

In light of Lewrie's gathering problems, probably the best bet is for him to get out of country for awhile. This adventure adds some spice to the rather dismal and dull proceeding of escorting a convoy of ships to India. The circus ship may not be everyone's...
